WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1863.

WHAT IS FLORES ABOUT?

Notwithstanding the series of Media's (imaginary) triumphs, commencing at Polanco ford, on the river Yi, and ending with the rumoured retreat of Flores beyond the Brazilian frontier, we have the filibusters now besieging Salto and Paysandu, with a force represented at 4000 men. Meantime the Government General is nowhere; at least our friends in Montevideo cannot exactly say in what department the pursuing army continues its operations, and we are incredulous enough to think Medina's soldiers never intended to injure their rebellious countrymen, and have not the least idea of raising the siege in Uruguay ports.

Moreno's army having dissolved, either nuta proprio, or because Government had an ambiguous appreciation of their strength and efficiency, it follows that the octogenarian hero of Polance must hasten back, to defend the capital from a coup de main. The climax of bungling is now arrived at; the vaunted Entre Rian allies have done nothing, Moreno is a general without troops, Medina has lost himself in the wild goose chase to Tacuarembó, Lamas is shut up in Salto, and a breath of sedition in Montevideo would suffice to tumble President Berro's house of cards about his ears.

The whole campaign is marvellously like a comedy, and we almost doubt that Flores, or any of his opponents, has been in earnest from the beginning. Certainly if the filibuster and the President had made a project to destroy the country with "sham-fighting," the respective bosoms could not have played their parts better. Six months have elapsed since Flores landed with three men at Rincon Gallinas, and at any intervening period his whole army could have been put off by 1000 resolute, well-armed men. Twelve thousand fellows wearing blue cockades have been chasing the rebels on both sides of Rio Negro; but no engagement has yet occurred wherein fifty men have been killed.

It is evidently the object of both parties not to fight, and we are not to predict this really wonderful war, though it may last for ten years, will infallibly terminate without any engagement.

Now, in civilized countries it would be exceedingly difficult to calculate the changes of ministry or a campaign under such non-combative and unsanguinary circumstances. But judging Flores' future by the past, we may safely count, which even Alexander's sword could not sever.

The siege of Salto and Paysandu is only a practical joke. If Flores shall at last his head to occupy these places, he does not advance his cause an iota. If he shall not succeed, which requires, Government gains nothing but fond for bulletins or pretexts for extra bellringing. When the filibusters were encamped in sight of Montevideo, they were much nearer to final success than before they crossed the Rio Negro; yet now we have a second siege of Salto and Paysandu, apparently assuming the of the first. The loss of these two ports would not close the river Uruguay to the Oriental war-vessels, nor add such prestige to the rebels that a revolt might be expected in Montevideo, which they failed to accomplish when knocking at the city gates. The garrisons are too feeble to make a successful sally; no aid can be sent, without weakening the capital.

As it is generally understood that Flores is the malignant author of the whole country, but cannot take the city, he has no immediate reason to get rid of the campaign; while President Berro, secure behind state walls, may assure Baron Maua and his other friends that 'all will be over within 15 days,' without either losing or gaining life or caring if the public do so. In this manner the present operations form but an episode, the grand plan on both sides being to wear out the adversary. The odds are decidedly for the filibusters, since nothing can so weaken a government as the conviction that it is unable to cope with rebels; powerless to preserve order, and base enough to witness its degradation before giving the last throes.

President Berro has but one alternative: either to sanctify the rebellion, by making terms with Flores, or take the field and let the god of battles decide the issue. Flores is bent on avoiding both these measures, and thought that to tempt upon the judiciary, injury on individuals, inconvenience to the public, and a stigma upon the public man who instigated his appointment. Let Judge Dominguez resign.

OUR JUDICIARY.

Nothing can afford a more striking proof of the real loons stands of the judges of this country than the fact that the resignation en masse of the judges of the 1st Instance has failed to attract the slightest attention. We advert to this subject, urged by two motives—first, to show the public apathy which is entertained for anything concerning our judiciary; and, secondly, the scandalous system of political intrigue which has crept into the Cabildo.

We embrace the cause of the injured judges, not so much from any exalted opinion we entertain for their intrinsic individual worth, as from a sense of disgust which we feel at the conduct of the Governor in barefacedly violating established customs, for the sole purpose of pandering to the avaricious pretensions of an over-cupidinous Minister.

It does seem strange to us that an event such as the wholesale resignation of all the judges in the land, which would of course paralyze the Cabildo a sensation almost bordering on rebellion, has in Buenos Ayres neither excited the animadversions of the press nor the attention of the Legislature. Corrupt to the very core, it proves that neither our laws command respect nor our judges esteem. The plain truth be told, every one who has ever figured, either as plaintiff or defendant, is so heartily dissatisfied with the tedious formalities of the law, that they neither sympathise with the judges whose rights have been outraged by an avaricious Minister, nor condemn the step which has tended to augment still more Cabildo procrastination. Furthermore, people in Buenos Ayres have now become so accustomed to what the Americans term 'division of the spoils' by the men in power, that they begin to regard as a right what we fearlessly impeach as an abuse. It is all very well to say, 'make hay whilst the sun shines,' so long as the hay-making process is confined to Custom-house situations or Government contracts; but when the axe is wielded the moment the Governor or his Minister dar s to meddle with the judiciary, and place on the supreme bench a decided party spirit is manifested, it is high time to draw public attention to the matter, not so much for the purpose of requesting the withdrawal of such his nomination, as to show up, in its true colours, the present hateful, intriguing, spirit which is the remote cause of all disgraceful changes that courts for ward, may we ask, brother Porteños, have you fought, and struggled, and bled, and conquered, if the constitutional Governor of the Sth province is permitted to do the same?

Judge Dominguez is a man so utterly unknown to us, that were charged him with any offence we should be obliged to draw upon our imagination. Far from it, we take it for granted that his professional abilities, and his respectable station spotless; but why has this man been selected to fill the vacant judgeship of the Supreme Court, in direct violation of the law which judges shall, it is acknowledged, have prior claims? Had Judge Dominguez been an itinerant lawyer, enough to excite jealousy from his exalted brother, the Minister, we could,on the plea of fraternal affection,pardon the Minister's indiscretion, but, so far from it, this Doctor Dominguez had been already named judge of a court by President Mitre, which he never even took the trouble to inaugurate; he could not, therefore, be regarded as out of situation, and 'innocent of the spoils.' He had his share the same as the rest. Why, therefore, disturb the judgment seat, and cause such a revolution in the Cabildo?

We perceive in last evening's 'National' that the Governor, persisting in his conduct, has not only accepted the resignation of Drs. Eguia and Heredia, but actually named their successors. Strange as it may seem to the world, a foreign journal should take so much interest in a matter which the native papers pass over in silence, and which excites no remark even in the street; but is a species of brazen hardihood in thus summarily sending about their business men who have grown grey in the service, that we willingly take up their case; and, though we verily believe had we the misfortune to have been brought before these judges we should be most certainly condemned, still we feel that the conduct of the Government towards them has been so improper, of the Minister so unjustifiable, that we fearlessly assert the nomination of Judge Dominguez, has thought fit to tempt upon the judiciary, injury on individuals, inconvenience to the public, and a stigma upon the public man who instigated his appointment. Let Judge Dominguez resign.

FOREIGN COINS.

The law, making foreign coins a legal tender, has been at last passed. Here it is a most important law for all who are engaged in business, we translate and publish it for the benefit of our commercial subscribers:—

DARING ROBBERY.

We regret to inform our readers that the wholesale leather store of Messrs. True and Millard, No. 133 calle Cangallo, was broken into and entered night or early on Sunday morning, and property to the value of over $20,000 me. stolen therefrom. Strange to say, for what reason the burglars got in which was locked and contained some 4 or 5,000 dollars me. This is accounted for by the fact that the key of the door was left in the store, and the robbers evidently, believed that all the money was there. The robbers were evidently well acquainted with the premises and the value of the goods for they took some bundles of valuable cordonet; also 6 pieces of prunella stuffs, 2 boxes of morocco &c. In fact, it is quite clear that the robbers must have taken large and heavy bundles of goods, from the premises. Now, we should like to know if there was not complicity with the 'serens' how these burglars carried these goods through so open a thoroughfare as calle Cangallo. The night was clear: the landlord of the premises states that he returned home after 11 o'clock and that he wondered very much to hear noise in Messrs. True and Millard's premises.

Here is a case which calls for stringent enquiry—a clever fine night, in the most populous part of the town, with 'serens' at every corner and people pressing to and fro at almost every hour of the night, a set of thieves break into a merchant's warehouse, and carry off more goods than would load a bullock-cart. The robbers left a candle lighting on the counter, which by the greatest good luck did not set fire to the whole place. The street door was not broken, but the lock was forced; and the robbers contrived, when departing, to close the door so as that to all appearance, it was locked. The most valuable part of the stolen goods were that despatched by Mr. Millard, only last week, from the Custom-house. No trace whatever has been got of the goods or the burglars, although if the police force of this city were good for anything, they might be easily tracked out.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The 'Mosquito' editor has resigned, and if report be true, has joined on to the 'Mercurio.' We have not heard who is the new caricaturist.

We are happy to assure our readers that there is one savage lera in the country. The Cacique Cristo, it appears, was killed by some of Flores' troops.

There is rather hot work going on at present in Congress; the Senators are occupied with the military portion of the Budget. When the price of gunpowder, paid by the Minister, came on, there was a regular explosion. Sr. Frias attacked the Minister of War, and gave him a most frightful blowing up for squandering the national funds; he charged the minister with spending money, without giving any proper account of it; and, in fact, with defrauding the nation, as the Commissario made contracts and purchased goods of private parties, without the legal permission. Sr. Frias charged Minister Gelly with open robbery. The minister made no answer nor explanation whatever, and every one seemed surprised that the calm and discreet a member should make use of such language.

The public complain most seriously of the great want of accomodation on the Northern Railway. On Sunday, a gentleman went with his family, and experienced the greatest difficulty in getting even into a second-class coach, after taking first-class tickets. But when our friend arrived at the station house of the Retiro, a new difficulty arose; some hundreds more had got tickets than there were seats for. Our friend had to wait for the train in carriage, his children in another, and himself on top outside. We have been requested to call attention to this matter. More coaches should be put on to the trains.

Dr. Heredia, we are happy to say, has been elected Judge of Appeals for the District of Buenos Ayres. It will be remembered Dr. H. was one of the judges of the 1st Instance who resigned.

The Mail arrived this week this morning. If she did not arrive in Montevideo before twelve o'clock yesterday, she will not be here before to-morrow.

Mr. Tipping and some of his fellow passengers by the Raymond perpetrated a very stale joke on board the Arno, calculating rumours about a deadly affray and desertion by the sailors of that vessel. It seems the truth was, that, as usual, one or three sailors deserted: nothing more.

Rev. Dr. Oliffe has concluded his tour of collecting subscriptions for the Cape of Good Hope mission, where our Catholic brethren are rather distressed. The Irish families in the camp, besides some natives are said distinguished contributors, and we are happy to state that nearly $120,000 me have been collected by the above missionary. We will publish the list to-morrow.

GOOD NEWS FOR COTTON.

The proto-planter of Corrientes, Sr. Ximenes, visited our office yesterday to say that his cotton-farms near Goya are in splendid condition. Some propitious rains have lately fallen, and there is every prospect of a fine crop. For the information of Consuls Parish and Hutchinson and Earl Russell, who may be labouring under the delusion that "no cotton has been planted in these countries," we may mention that this estancia comprises 100,00 cottonhills,covering a superficies of 10 squares of a league each. Taking the average yield of 300lb. per acre, this gives 150 qq., or 50 cwt. ginned cotton, which, at 2s. per lb., will produce over £500 sterling, besides 5 tons of excellent seed (sufficient to plant a square league). There are 21 families engaged in this plantation, who also act as herds on the cattle farm, each having the plot of cotton on halves with Snr. Ximenes. One of our cotton-gins is set up at the estancia house.

It is desirable—and, moreover, likely—that this system of planting, conjointly with the inundated (called by Incas and others) "overflowed" lands, rule among Italian wine-growers,) should become general throughout Corrientes.

We are informed that the plantation at Santa Urquitza, Entre Rios, is nearly all sold. That of Snr. Ximenes in extent.

President Lopez' last invoice of American seed for Paraguay was sufficient to lay down more than 4,000 cuadras, or 15,000 acres, the crop of which may be safely calculated at nearly 1,000 tons ginned cotton. Add to this the various other plantations on the banks of the Paraná and its tributaries: we may expect double this gigantic figure as the first result of this "Standard" Argentino enterprise.

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.

The price of ounces fixed by the Minister of the Hacienda for this week, is 428.

The minister has addressed a circular to the administrator of National Revenue, calling his attention to the rules and regulations which at present exist, and which cause so much inconvenience to commerce, with the view of having them either abolished or modified. The signatures of any merchants, thrice convicted of committing abuses or errors, shall not be received at the Custom-house.

Minister Elizalde must, we think, display a most praiseworthy anxiety to remodel the Custom-house, and remove all the impediments which have so long and seriously trammelled business. Since Dr. Elizalde has taken the Custom-house in hand, the clerks are to be found at their offices regularly at nine o'clock. There is still, however, a great subject of complaint respecting the 'vistas': frequently not a vista is to be found in the whole Custom-house. To remedy this evil, we think they should be numerically increased, and always one at least compelled to remain in the Custom-house during business hours.

THE ORIENTAL WAR.

Mercedes, October 26, 1863.

You ask me an account of the real state of the country: this is difficult as you cannot depend upon anything either party say. There is no doubt, the Government has more than double the number of men (the greater portion infantry) of Flores, the real state is, that Moreno has the cavalry, and the Government the infantry. If Flores does not choose to fight he cannot be obliged; he is just a 2nd edition of the Colorado.

You may depend this revolution will not end in fighting: we will have to come to terms with Flores, giving him and his followers offices.

The 'colorados' see in every step the Government take—a defeat demoralization. Flor. for instance, they make out that Moreno's army has all deserted from him, when if you read a letter from Moreno, published in yesterday's 'Defensa' you will see what has become of his army.

Colonel Majario has formed a new force in Cerro Largo, of 2000 men; Burgueño is in Paso de Azucar with 1200. Col. Piris and Lenguas are forming a new division, North of Rio Negro with Col. Pedro Lopez, &c. I think Flores will not do with this last as he did with Lamas. My opinion is that the Government are in a good way yet, and that this affair will last as long as there is cash in hand; but when this is spent, you will see matters take another course.

I enclose a letter from a friend who sympathizes for Flores, which I think will suit your Buenos Ayrean readers. I will then try and get some other opinions for you.

Inauguration of the new organ took place in the Protestant church yesterday: a collection of 200 silver dollars more or less, was made. The general opinion is that it is an excellent instrument.

MONTEVIDEO

Political matters are at sixes and sevens: General Flores is taking it easy somewhere this side the Rio Negro. The rebels are leading financial men, and a magnificent dinner party to a limited number of friends, mostly Oriental, on Monday evening, 19th inst.

The inauguration of the organ in the English church took place yesterday. The choir was strong and did their part; the singing, with no offence, was little too powerful for the size of the church. The Rev. Samuel Adams, with his usual eloquence, gave a sermon morning and evening, after which collections were made, and the sum of $202 silver dollars ($440) was taken to defray the expenses of the improvements in the church, and for the erection for the gallery for the organ.

THE FLORES WAR.

To the Editors of the Standard.

As you have given a place in the 'Standard' to the article 'Flores War,' I trust you will make room for the following.

The English 'Observator' of things that passed in our country is probably a very bad observer, or, on the contrary, he has a bad inclination for the legality and principles of the republic. I think the first; but among our people we have, of all parts of the world, not in Buenos Ayres with much reason, men who give credit to the lies that they forge in that and in this town, the 'oppositionists' of the situation, and for that I think it is important to give an exposition of the facts, without fiction, and only pronouncing the truth.

The 'Observator' says that 'the general-in chief in command of the Government forces in the field' writes his despatches to the Minister of War, the Minister, besieged by the members of the press, feels, anxious to gain some relief by the sale of bulletins, clamour for a copy of the despatch), hands them over to these interested gentlemen who, not, however, without first eliminating certain awkward paragraphs, which it is not considered prudent should become subjects for criticism.'

The author of this is badly informed. The Oriental Government has made it a rule in its dealings with Flores, to tell always the truth, with a good faith almost unexampled. After the battle of Yeres the Government bulletins presented the facts as they were. You will agree with me, Mr. Editor, that a Government publishing such disinterestedness on that occasion, cannot waste its time in publishing fictions How then can 'Observator' charge Pres. Berro's ministry with supplying speeches to the Oriental press, "after first carefully eliminating some awkward paragraphs."

It is probable that 'Observator' will be pulling strings with Flores,he seems quite of account with him, and well up in the filibuster's designs.

Leaving aside all that he says of how badly you are informed, I will conclude by remarking that it is painful to see a foreigner, who is perhaps an Englishman, proclaim himself the advocate of Vandals. This gives him a bad character in the eyes of

AN ORIENTAL.

Subdued but not Conquered.

A mighty change has come over our dreams. Clear sparcers of legal rights and order saw in the precipitate flight of Flores, the destruction of his hordes at the ford of Polanco, the retreat of the removal of the barricades, the realisation of all their fond hopes, and the restoration of peace. But alas! things have taken a different turn, despondency and chagrin have followed the fierce excitement of trumpeted victories, so crushing and decisive, that their recital made the nations to shudder and laughed. Subsequently, however, circumstances disclosed themselves, of a nature so contrary to all reasonable ideas that people have almost succumbed under them. The brave and enthusiastic army of Moreno has crumbled away without a shot being freely and to many astonishing. The fact is that the desertion and frightful insubordination of the valiant army were so appalling that the gallant General deounced it prudent not to disband his altogether. Before leaving, they despoiled and robbed the commissariat stores, with the exception of a small quantity of arms of no memorable a campaign. It is reported that Moreno is about entering on another campaign, but it is evident that his former reputation and utter want of prestige will render it difficult work to re-organise the Falstaff band.

Lamas, on the other hand, returns from the persecution of the rebels elated with the brilliant triumphs he achieved, which were so graphically described in the former correspondent's Observator.' It baffles the description of my humble pen, and can only say that in spite of 'Observator's' talent, they are beyond the imagination as described. Meanwhile Lamas has been distinguishing himself in another of his usual glorious campaigns, only more—inequalled, in the annals of warfare, by Sir John Moore and Marshal Ney; but, Mr. Editor, is the real state of affairs, which I leave with your numerous readers to draw your own deductions of the probable issue of the struggle.

I may remark, in conclusion, that whatever sympathies were manifested in favour of the government or those whose interests were involved in the peace of the country or stability of one or other party, have been entirely withdrawn in consequence of the present state of affairs, and the gross deception and cowardice that have characterised their policy.

Montevideo is disgusted beyond up to the present inclined to repudiate and discountenance a rebellion that seemed to be instigated by a vicious and bold ambition, and now, with no other than rapine and power. The impotence and cowardice of those who clamour for the upholding of the present administration have estranged the moral support, of disinterested parties. LIBERAL.

THE RAYMOND.

Cabin and Steerage passengers.

I feel indeed deeply grateful for your kind address and vote of thanks to me. To be assured that the manner in which I discharged my duty met with your approbation, would have afforded me infinite satisfaction, and more than recompensed me for anything I did; but that my services (if any) should be so handsomely recognised, is more than altogether by surprise, and placed me in the position of not having words to express sufficiently my feelings. I can only heartily wish you success in the country of your adoption, and be assured your kindness will be ever uppermost in my mind. (Signed)

J. LENDENS,
Master of Raymond.
Buenos Ayres, Oct 26th, 1863.

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 27, 1863.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE STANDARD.

Gentlemen:—Perceiving in this morning's Standard a statement to the effect that a mutiny occurred on board the Raymond, resulting in the drowning of two of the crew, I think it right to inform you that the story is a most gratuitous fabrication got up by some evil disposed persons who have misconducted themselves during the voyage, and send the news to your office, for the purpose of injuring my reputation and the name of the vessel.

I request therefore you will do me the favor to contradict in the most emphatic manner this lying report—and oblige yours most respectfully,

J. F. LENDERS,
Master of Raymond.

To Thomas F. O'Dwyer, Esq., M.D., Surgeon to the ship Raymond of Dublin.

SIR—We the undersigned, on behalf of our fellow passengers, beg leave to tender you our grateful thanks for the kind and courteous manner in which you discharged the duty of surgeon to this ship during the voyage from Dublin to Buenos Ayres (now terminated). It is manifest to all of us that your constant study has been directed to the preservation of health, comfort, and felicity amongst us, and we are happy to say that your efforts have been attended with signal success. We trust prosperity may attend all similar charitable missions in which you may be engaged.

(Signed)

MISCELLANY.

A gentleman, riding through Sydenham, saw a board with "This cottage for sale" painted on it. As he was always ready for a pleasant joke, and seeing a woman in front of the house, he stopped and asked her very politely "When the cottage would fall?" "Only as soon as the man comes who can raise wind," was the quiet reply.

This year has been a very fruitful one for the Mormon elders in foreign lands. While the American people have been engaged by civil war, these vagabonds have been busy proselyting among the ignorant of all the nations of Europe. The Mormons now boast of having a representation from every civilized nation on earth. Not less than 10,000 souls have or will cross the plains this year.

The Edinburg correspondent of the Inverness Advertiser states that Madeline Smith has been comfortably married, and may occasionally, it is said, be seen on a Sunday along with her husband in a church not a hundred miles from the town of Linlithgow.

"Class in the middle of geography, stand up," said a schoolmaster. "What is a pyramid?" he asked. "A pile of men in a circus, one on top of the other." "Where's Egypt?" "Where it always was." "Where's Wales?"... "All over the sea." "Very well," said the schoolmaster, "stay there till I show you a specice of birch that grows all over this country.

Why is a French steam-vessel on her passage from Calais to Dover the sign of the amicable relations of the Two Great Powers?—Because it shows the entente cordiale between France and England—Punch.

A train of truck cars on the Penaylvania road, laden with petroleum, was ignited by a spark from the locomotive near Kittaning Point, on the mountains. In a few minutes four cars were in flames. The rest of the train was cut loose and saved. The heat of the fire was so intense and consuming that the cross ties of the track on which the cars stood and who of the track adjoining were burned through, and the rails so warped as to render it difficult for trains to pass. The foliage of the trees was burned off and shrivelled for a distance of 50 feet on either side of the track. —American paper.

A youth competed in a foot race in London, the other day, and immediately after arriving at the winning post dropped down and instantly expired. The distance run was only 100 yards, and the deceased was the winner.

LOCAL EVENTS.

THE MUTINY ON BOARD THE RAYMOND we are happy to say is all a mistake. In another column we publish the captain's letter.

THE LA PLATA deferred her day of sailing from Montevideo until Sunday. The Beef Exporting Society, we note, has shipped 9740 qq. jerked beef by her.

A SUPPLEMENTARY MAIL for the English Packet will be made up to-day at the British Consulate. Letters will be received up to two o'clock.

THE SAINTONGE was expected to arrive in Montevideo yesterday, and if she arrived before twelve o'clock, would leave the same day for this port.

SALTO.—This steamer will arrive here to-morrow morning from Montevideo, and leave at ten o'clock for the Uruguay.

THE MONTEVIDEAN BAZAAR (for the benefit of the English Hospital in Montevideo) will take place on the nights of the 3rd and 5th prox. We understand a young lady well known in English circles deserves great praise for her efforts in forwarding so good a cause. A large box was shipped on Monday morning per Mersey, ex route for Montevideo, containing various pieces of fancy, the fruits of the aforementioned young ladies' exertions.

ON 'CHANGE

October 27.

Business on the Bolsa was rather limited this morning, but there is an ascendant. The news from Montevideo seemed susceptible of every possible version. Some believed that the current rumour about disturbances in Montevideo, and Moreno's hegira, were undeniable facts; whilst others clung to the lingering hope of Mayo effecting a peace. On the very best of authority, we learn that one of Flores' officers, Aguilar, has surprised the artillery of Medina, at a place called Durazno, and carried off everything. The Oriental revolution is now assuming such a disastrous character that it is the desire of every one that peace should be made at all hazards.

We regret to notice the failure of a distinguished French Commission merchant. We have not heard the extent of liabilities, but we believe, that with the exception of one transaction, his business relations were exclusively confined to tailors, jewellers, hotelkeepers, &c. If we had a bankrupt court in this city, we are confident that the fashionable debtor would be refused even a third-class certificate. It is said that the gentleman in question patronised one foreign importing house, and bought a large quantity of goods on three months' time, which he managed to dispose of for cash, in less than 48 hours, being obliged to leave town immediately on a shooting excursion. The creditors, we believe, believe it a wild goose chase to follow him.

We notice a decided downward tendency in our produce market. The arrivals in the South Plazas are of late most stupendous nature. Hides, and nothing but hides, are to be seen in the Plaza. The country is overflowing, they are falling fast. To-day large sales were made as low as 100, and if the bullock carts keep coming in with cow hides as they have done of late, the quotations will be lower still. The public generally is that dry cow hides will shortly be selling at 00 per pesado. Some old hands are worried in this place to-day, but as yet it has not been told.

In the Plaza Once de Setiembre new wool is daily arriving; yesterday 3.00 arr. were sold at 32. To-day another small lot was disposed of at 00. It is idle for us to attempt to conceal from our country readers the fact that the agricultural wool is very dirty, whether from a determined combination of the buyers, or an absolute scarcity of water we cannot take on us to say, but it is rather strange that there are several carts of new wool at present in the Plaza unsold, although the price asked by the owner is by no means extravagant.

Wheat still continues in good demand, and prices look very firm. About 20 0 fanegas have been sold within the last few days at prices varying from 118 to 100. Maiz is very weak; it will not command a sale at 60. Linseed is hardly next 82 per fanega after paying freight and commission. The freights from Montevideo to town is from 45 to 50 per fanega. The rate from this city have been at 62½ and 65.

Owing to the heavy gale in Montevideo the other night, the Uruguay has not yet arrived.

Ounces opened at 4275, and went up during the day, closing firm at 4291 Cash sales 1815. There is very little speculation at present going on in gold; paper is becoming more in demand, but the banks are encumbered with it at present.

PIANOFORTES.

In lasting here intended to Messrs. Collard and Collard's celebrated Cabinet Pianos in tunes, with a great number of Cheaper Piano forte pianos to be made by them, have been and continue to be sold in various parts of South America, and it is necessary in order to prevent purchasers being deceived by such representations, to state that Messrs. Collard and Collard have established a full description of the instrument manufactured at their Factory, and without that mark on each "After this date" may be considered as counterfeit, and any information as to whereabouts of subject for reference either to the makers or to their Agents, Messrs. Lamb and Co. 3, Cornhill, London, and Messrs. Wessel and Co. Bonds Ayres, No. 28, Buenos Ayres, will have an Inspection of a choice assortment of Instruments carefully selected with which for excellency in price, elegance of design, perfection of touch and tone, quality of construction with the valuable and unfailing power of standing in tune cannot be surpassed.

English Grammar School,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.

Dor.—Mr. Pougerard, of the London Civil Service Colleg .

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English school, where a sound commercial education is combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the exact system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An over-watchful and constant superv ision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & C°

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

Those advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. each week days and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each Depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood,

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent (6 p$) per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
